Cedarville University Athletes of Honor

A Project of the Athletic Department's Legacy Committee

Six years ago, former athletic director Pete Reese sought to develop a way to honor former athletes who had been outstanding performers during their college careers at Cedarville. Given the thousands of men and women athletes who have competed for Cedarville since 1953, that was a daunting challenge. Pete constituted a Legacy Committee, and as one of its responsibilities, charged it to develop selection criteria, and devise a means of honoring those individuals selected. After much work on the part of coaches and the Legacy Committee, a special designation "Athletes of Honor" came into being at Cedarville University.

Present athletic director Alan Geist has continued to support the Legacy Committee in this work. Last year at Homecoming, Athletes of Honor who completed their college athletic careers prior to 2000 were honored. This year, we honor those who completed their careers between 2000 and 2008. The Athletic Department will continue to select and recognize new Athletes of Honor bi-annually.

All of these athletes not only were outstanding performers in their respective sports, but modeled Champions of Character traits of sportsmanship, integrity, respect, responsibility and servant leadership throughout their college careers. They were nominated by their sport's coaching staff, and approved by the Legacy Committee.

This year, we are proud to honor 144 former Yellow Jacket athletes. This year's group also includes some who were inadvertently missed as the Committee combed through athletic records dating from the mid-fifties, and some who were unable to be with us for last year's Homecoming.
